

Farmers Market News

Tired of all the rain and gloom of this past July? August should be a much more colorful month at the Two Rivers Farmers/Crafters Market. Red & yellow tomatoes, deep green cucumbers, white, red & yellow onions, green or yellow beans, bright green lettuce, golden sweet corn, white or red potatoes, deep purple plums and shiny red apples - all of these should be in good supply to enjoy fresh or to preserve for the long winter months ahead. And remember, you can talk with each vendor - ask them when their produce was picked, if they use chemicals, where their garden is located and who does the weeding. You can't do that at the grocery store!

Perhaps it is time to think about Christmas as well. This market has many talented crafters who offer jewelry, rag rugs, knit, crochet or embroidered items, birdhouses and feeders, colorful flags and many more good ideas to start your holiday shopping.

Ready to eat prepared food is available at market on both Wednesdays and Saturdays. On Wednesday you can enjoy some egg rolls and Saturdays we offer a choice of hot dogs, snacks, and Amish baked goods.

Events this month include:

Aug. 7th

National Farm Market week

Aug. 14th

Roncalli Singers will share their vocal talents with us.

Aug. 18th

Wednesday DJ entertainment by Brad Klabunde who will choose from his CD collection of new and old country & bluegrass music

Aug. 21st

Harp & Honey Festival. This annual event will take place on National Honeybee Awareness Day and will feature Karen Webster on stage to play her Celtic harp for your enjoyment. The 2010 Wisconsin Honey Queen, Abby Tracy, will be with us, as well as Garry Sydow, a local beekeeper who will bring along some of his "girls" in an observation hive.

Aug. 28th

Music by the Accordion Club

Come and share these last, best days of summer. Meet your friends, bring your dog, sit and enjoy the music.

Parking is close and convenient.

Farmers/Crafters Market

Two Rivers Central Park

Saturday 8 AM - 1 PM
Wednesday 1 - 5:30 PM

Fresh produce, crafts & family fun!